

Subgenus Scapulicambarus Hobbs, 1972a: 11

Procambarus (Scapulicambarus) clarkii (Girard, 1852)

*A partially diagnosed species complex, the members of which previously were assigned to Cambarus (P.) acuminatus Faxon, 1884, a species that very likely does not occur in North Carolina. The complex still contains several undescribed species. DNA studies of some members of the complex are underway at the Carnegie Museum.

 Taylor (2000:140) restricted the range of O. (P.) spinosus (s.s.) to the upper Coosa River drainage. He is studying the North Carolina material and has expressed the opinion (in litt.) that this appears to be an undescribed endemic species.